'NO CHILDREN' SIGN ON HOUSES HURTS GLENDALE MUCH

Realtors Point to Plan for Outside Capital to Build Homes

UNREASONABLE RENTS

Furnished Apartments Also Come in for Share in Big Scoring Today

A problem that confronts all rapidly growing communities is confronting people who want to make Glendale their home but cannot do so for the reason that a great many house owners will not rent to people who are blessed with children.

Prominent real estate men in Glendale are up in arms over the situation and they are planning to interest outside capital in a plan to build homes for people who have children and want to come here but cannot because they have children.

One real estate man said today that in no less than eight instances within the past week prospective tenants were told that house owners would not rent to them if they had children. Being thus blessed, the prospective tenants resented the action and left for some city where they are welcome.

"There are a great many men and women who are more destructive than children," said the realtor, "and while the owners of the houses have a right to reject any prospective tenant, I believe there should be an ordinance compelling people who offer houses for rent to rent to any desirable person, whether they have children or not."

Action in the matter is going to be taken before the chamber of commerce also, and it is further planned to pass an ordinance compelling persons who have furnished apartments to rent, to provide a certain amount of household equipment. An alleged furnished apartment rented last week bragged of kitchen equipment of a frying pan, two cake or pie tins, a carving knife and a coffee pot. The price charged for the apartment is sufficient to warrant the owner furnishing a full household equipment with the exception of silver and linen.

If it becomes noised about that Glendale is infested with rent profiteers and landlords who will not rent to people with children, the harm is going to be great, one realtor said today.

GERMAN BLUEBEARD PUZZLES OFFICIALS THIRTY VICTIMS

BERLIN, Sept. 24.—Although Karl Grossman, modern Bluebeard and supercriminal, is believed to have killed from 20 to 30 women, officials of the prosecuting attorney's staff think they could not fix more than three of the murders, and possibly six at the most.

Grossmann was turned over to the prosecuting attorney by the police yesterday. The prisoner is the most amazing criminal ever seen in this country. The accused is a former butcher, 38 years of age, is dirty and his clothing is ragged and filthy. But his forehead is high and of the intellectual type.

Like Henri Landru, the French wife murderer, who is now in jail at Paris, Grossmann shows remarkable mental nimbleness. He will never admit anything until he is trapped and then he snarls out his answers like an angry animal.

Grossmann is acting as his own lawyer and he is not without experience of court procedure.

Many neighbors of Grossmann, who occupied a tenement in the slum district, have been summoned to give testimony about his mode of life, but the police are having much difficulty in getting the women to say anything. Reveations so far have thrown the women of the district into a panic.

CROWNED HEAD MAY TAKE IRISH THRONE

DUNDEE, Scotland, Sept. 24.—England will never back down from her demand that the Irish recognize the English king as their sovereign, Colonial Secretary Winston Churchill declared in a speech here today.

"If the offer which we have made is rejected, we have nothing else to give," said Mr. Churchill. "We must insist upon allegiance to the king. We are resolved we will not yield an inch from our present position."

The speech revived rumors that Britain may establish a dual monarchy, putting a member of the Royal family upon the Irish throne.

While Mr. Churchill was speaking, a mob of unemployed attempted to storm the hall. They ere wdriven back by policemen.

"I cannot see that much real foundation for optimism prevails," continued the official. "Eamonn de Valera has been splitting hairs in his notes. Pedantry and metephysical perplexities are blotting out the real chances of peace."

NEWTON TAKES UP ARTICLE IN TIMES WITH CHAMBER

Brands Recent Statement of City Newspaper as Pure Fabrication

REFERS TO ARRESTS

Four Men Who Were Held for Government Are Not Endeavorers

J. A. Newton, prominent business man of this city and who was the chairman of publicity for the State Christian Endeavor convention held here in June, has taken action in response to complaints made to him by officers of the county Christian Endeavor over an article published in the Los Angeles Times, concerning the arrest of four men in Glendale by federal prohibition enforcement officers Thursday.

The crux of the objection was contained in a paragraph quoted by Mr. Newton as follows:

"As a sequel to the arrest recently of four young men delegates to the Christian Endeavor convention in Glendale, prohibition enforcement agents after an all-night vigil in the little city, yesterday took into custody Ernest Thede, Robert Wilson, W. L. Kincy, proprietor of the Broadway cafe, and Guy Wells, a former member of the Glendale police force."

"I took the matter up with Judge Herbert Lowe, city recorder," said Mr. Newton, "and he knows of no such previous arrests as was referred to, and I also took it up with John Lampert, who was chief of police in June, and he said no arrests were made during the convention.

"None of the young men named are Christian Endeavorers, and none of them had anything to do with the convention. A complaint is to be filed by the officers of the county Christian Endeavor with the Glendale chamber of commerce, which will be asked to run down the slander against the organiaztion.

"The Los Angeles Times seems to take delight in featuring scandals in connection with our little city, and our real news of vital importance is relegated to an obscure place in the paper."

Glendale Post, No. 127 met last night in what was said to be the snappiest meeting in many months. Routine business of the meeting was transacted in about 20 minutes, setting a new record for Glendale Post. After the regular business of the meeting was completed, T. R. Goodman and Arthur Trautwein were initiated into the organization.

Want Circus

Commander Keifer reported on his negotiation for a hall in which to present a show to be produced by Comrade Lewis. He also reported that a circus had made a proposition to show in Glendale under the auspices of the Legion and were willing to guarantee the organization a substantial return for their services in securing licenses, lights, a lot and ticket sellers. The circus will be brought to Glendale if a suitable lot can be secured for the exhibit.

A joint meeting of the Legion and the auxiliary, to be held October 6, was arranged. This meeting will be held to make plans for a joint membership campaign.

Rail Rates

Comrade William Eckles, a disabled veteran of the World War addressed the meeting on the subject of War Risk Insurance and the recent ruling by the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States regarding compensations. Another matter discussed by Comrade Eckles was the matter of transportation for war veterans. He pointed out the fact that all veterans of the Spanish-American and Civil War were given a rate of 1½ cents per mile on all railroads while veterans of the World War were forced to pay full fare. The post decided to take the matter up with state and national headquarters before taking any action. After a ruling from headquarters the Glendale Post will appeal to Congressman Lineberger for a similar reduction in railroad fares.

Adjutant McBryde informed the post that prominent people had been secured to speak at every meeting of the post for the remainder of the year and that plans were being made to secure several boxers from San Pedro for an exhibition bout in Glendale.

Pastor Speaks

Rev. Calderwood, pastor of the Glendale Congregational Church, who became a member of the Glendale Post last night through transfer from Massachusetts, his former home, spoke to the members.

School Bonds

City Manager Reeves, a member of Pasadena Post, explained the proposed school bond drive. He also spoke on the co-operation of the Legion in city affairs. He paid a high tribute to a French war hero named Messeneau, who is living at present in the Verdugo hills. This man is more than 70 years old and when he enlisted in the French army at the beginning of the war he was 67 years old and as far as can be learned is the oldest man to serve in the front line trenches during the period of the World War.

Councilman Talks

Comrade Dwight Stephenson, who is a member of the Glendale City Council, spoke along general lines for the good of the Legion and the furthering of Legion activities.

Convention Report

Vincent Salmacia, a delegate to the recent state convention held in Yosemite, gave a humorous report of the convention as well as a general report of the convention.

SEMNACHER'S TESTIMONY IS EVASIVE

State's Witness Is "Hostile" Now Toward Prosecution the Officers Believe

GUARDED IN RESPONSES

Manager for Miss Rappe Was Still on Witness Stand at Today's Proceedings

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—Resuming his testimony at the preliminary hearing of Roscoe Arbuckle, charged with the murder of Virginia Rappe, Al Semnacher, manager of the dead girl, sprung a new surprise on the state by declaring that Miss Rappe was in ill health throughout her trip to San Francisco before the gay Arbuckle party and continued sick up to the time of her death. The defense was visibly elated by this statement.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—The State made another attempt today to wrest from the lips of Al Semnacher, the sensational story Semnacher told a Los Angeles grand jury regarding alleged admissions of Arbuckle "the morning after" the gay party at which the State claims Virginia Rappe received the injuries which caused her death.

Semnacher parried all efforts to bring this out and in addition materially softened testimony that he had given the grand jury and coroner's inquest

Semnacher, a nervous, wiry little man, whose dark, sparkling eyes peered cautiously from behind shell rimmed glasses, devloped a bad memory. Confronted with his answers to similar questions before the coroner's inquest, he expressed the belief that the stnographer had misquoted him.

It was only after two hours and a half of questioning that Golden brought forth from Semnacher the story of the finding of Miss Rappe in Arbuckle's room.

"I am dying! I am dying!" Semnacher quoted her as saying and described her as moving from side to side as if in pain. Two women whose names he could not remember had preceded him by several minutes, he said. He was emphatic that no noises had come from the room and said that Arbuckle was in the other room "having a drink" when the two women who had entered the bedroom rushed out and summoned help.

When this story finally come out, adjournment was taken until 10:30 today when the State announced they would continue Semnacher's questioning for probably an hour and a half. The case is expected to be continued then until next week with the prospect that the hearing will require the greater part of the week at the present rate of speed.

Dr. Arthur Beardslee, who attended Miss Rappe the first night of her illness, has given the most important testimony. He declared symptoms of an internal injury were present from the start and overshadowed indications of alcoholism. They were so marked, he said, that he recommended that she be taken at once to a hospital before turning the case over to Dr. M. E. Rumwell.

"In his statement before me," Deputy U'ren announced, "Dr. Beardslee said that whatever evidences there were of alcoholism in Miss Rappe's condition were entirely overshadowed by the intense pain she was suffering and by the symptoms of an apparent internal injury. Any symptom of alcoholism, the doctor said, was secondary.'"

Weekly Road Bulletin For Auto Tourists

The GLENDALE DAILY PRESS has completed arrangements with the Automobile Club of Southern California, whereby the automobile section of the PRESS, will hereafter contain the very latest news regarding the condition of the roads in Southern California and also of the roads running northward and eastward from this section. The PRESS will offer the first road-condition bulletin herewith:

COAST ROUTE to SAN FRANCISCO—From Glendale the motorist will find pavement to Burbank, Lankershim and on to Van Nuys and Marion. Turn south at Marion to Ventura highway and north along that highway. There is a detour on the Ventura highway up to the Marion road on account of road building. Continue north through Ventura and Santa Barbara and on to Gaviota Pass, which is now under construction. After driving over Nojoqui grade it is necessary to detour to the right over fair dirt road by way of Solvang and Los Olivas to Zaca. This detour is necessitated by the closing of the main highway between Buell Station and Zaca. The detour, although in fair shape, is dusty for the first mile. From Zaca pavement is coplete to the northern limits of Santa Maria, where there is a very good detour for approximately a mile reconstruction work. Thence highway is continuous for the remaining distance to San Francisco, with the exception of a very short stretch of dirt road at the west end of the King City bridge.

INLAND ROUTE TO SAN FRANCISCO—Pavement is complete north on the San Fernando highway through Burbank, San Fernando, over the Newhall grade to Saugus. Turn left over paved road at Saugus and follow the main road via the Ridge Route to Bakersfield. (Warning: Motorists are being arrested daily for exceeding the 15 mile speed limit on the Ridge.) Up San Joaquin Valley paved road is had either by way of Delano, Tulare and Goshen, or by way of Ducor, Porterville, Lindsay and Visalia to Goshen. Continue north through Fresno and Modesto to Oakland. All of this stretch is paved with the exception of a short stretch of dirt road entering the town of Altamont.

SAN DIEGO COAST ROUTE—Leaving Glendale, go to Los Angeles and out East Seventh street to Stephenson avenue and Whittier boulevard. The detour around the Montebello bridge is no longer necessary as a temporary pontoon bridge has been installed at this point. Pavement is continuous through Fullerton and Anaheim to Santa Ana. After crossing the Chapman avenue bridge over the Santa Ana river in Santa Ana, follow temporary route signs to the right for one block to Broadway, thence left to Fourth street, then left again, going south on Fourth street to its terminus. From this point turn right to the San Diego state highway. Optional route—via Orange to Tustin. This route, also, consists of paved highway. From the end of the detour pavement is complete to San Diego.

SAN DIEGO INLAND ROUTE—Paved from Glendale to the San Diego line via the Valley boulevard through Pomona, Ontario, Riverside, Perris and Elsinore, with the exception of a one-mile stretch through the town of Perris, and also a mile stretch in Elsinore. The Box Springs grade out of Riverside is being resurfaced, but motorists are allowed to use one-half of the road along side the construction work. There is also a one-half mile detour in fair condition at Bonsall. There is a four-mile detour from Buena station to San Marcos, which is very good via Twin Oaks, or the detour along the highway can be used. Perhaps the more available route is from Bonsall to Escondido via Moose Canyon. From Escondido there is good gravel road for three miles, then pavement with the exception of the Poway grade, also a mile and a half detour which is quite rough and dusty, to San Diego. All of the above detours are well signed and, generally speaking, the entire inland route is in excellent shape.

SANTA FE TRAIL — Generally speaking, the road from Glendale to Needles is better than usual. There is no BAD road. About five miles each way from Fenner the cross washes are deep but not bad if carefully driven. Ludlow to Amboy is very good for that particular section. The roads in the vicinity of Flagstaff are dry and the weather is clear. Through the state of New Mexico the road is, generally speaking, very good, although there are some rough places. There are no storms at present in New Mexico. The Dodge City Chamber of Commerce wires that the Santa Fe Trail roads are dry and in good condition on either side of that city. The roads for 200 miles on either side of Kansas City are muddy. The weather is cloudy and more showers are probable.

SPECIAL ATTENTION—Camping grounds for tourists are to be found about seven miles east of Flagstaff at the junction of the Winslow and the Old Grand Canyon highways. The camping grounds are free to the public and are located in a forest of pines. Wood and water are also free. The water is absolutely pure and is obtained from mountain springs. Gas, oil and supplies within easy reach of Grand Canyon, 65 miles away. There are a number of very interesting side trips that may be enjoyed by those keeping this camping ground as a central point. They are as follows: The Cave Dwellers, 3 miles; Cliff Dwellers, 6 miles; Lava Beds, including Sunset Mountain; Ice Caves; Black Crater and Whisper Mountain are all 7 miles away. Meteor Mountain is 35 miles away, while Schultz Pass is 6 miles distant.

YOSEMITE VALLEY—The closing of the Yosemite Valley travel year and with it the end of the Camp Curry season may give this erroneous impression to the public that Yosemite National Park is likewise closed. Yosemite Lodge has extended its season from the first of October at least into October and possibly into November, depending on the weather, with all classes of accommodations, both European and American plans. The Lodge will continue in operation until the Sentinel hotel is open for the season. It is expected that stage service will be continued from the Valley to the Mariposa Grove of Big Trees at least until December 1, and possibly later, depending upon the snow conditions in the higher altitudes. Stage service will be operated every day from El Portal to the Valley and around the floor of the Valley.

TEXAS TO COAST—Advices have been received from the Motor League of Southern Texas, that the storms of the past few days have made the roads impassable from east to west across the Central Section of Texas from Waco to the Coast.

EL CENTRO TO GLENDALE VIA INLAND ROUTE—From El Centro to Brawley the road can be classified as fair, thence good road to the beginning of the pavement, thence paved highway to Trifoliun Canal, where it will be necessary to cross the wash until the proper bridges have been constructed. The remaining distance along the Salton Sea is completely paved, also past Mecca into Indio, concrete is complete, but old oil macadam, which is extremely rough in spots will be had from Indio to Indian Well. There is a fair dirt road from this point to Palm Springs, and old oil macadam, broken in spots will be held from there to White Water Wash. The remaining distance through Cabazon to Banning was at one time an oil-macadam road, but has completely gone to pieces and at the present time it is very rough with innumerable cross washes caused by cloudbursts in the nearby mountains. From the northern city limits of Banning to the south city limits of Beaumont, concrete highway is had, thence dirt road into town. From there the road is concrete to the west end of the bridge over the railroad track. It is advisable to turn to left off the pavement and use the Moreno grade which can be classified as excellent for a dirt highway. At the foot of the grade pavement is encountered and had the remaining distance to Glendale.

POMONA TO ANAHEIM—Due to the road being closed through Brea canyon, motorists driving from Pomona may go via Rincon, having paved road the entire distance with the exception of four miles from Pomona Drive south on Geary to Philadelphia, left on Philadelphia to Chino, south on Central avenue to the junction of the Rincon road, thence right four miles over dirt road to Santa Ana canyon, thence pavement will be had via Santa Ana canyon to Anaheim.

RIM OF THE WORLD—There is little change on this road. Up Waterman canyon across the Rim of the World to Big Bear Lake, the road is in excellent condition with the exception of Snowslide grade, which is rather steep and rough. This grade necessitates unusually careful driving. On account of the heavy travel the road is getting dusty.

The City Creek road up to Big Bear Lake, from Highlands, is in excellent condition.

Mill Creek road is in good condition throughout.

EL MONTE BRIDGE—This bridge is closed at the north city limits and a detour is necessary down at the side of the bridge. There is heavy travel on this road, which is reported as being in good condition.

SUNLAND TO SAN FERNANDO—The highway between Sunland and San Fernando is closed due to the construction of bridges. However, there is a detour given for this road.

FOOTHILL AND VALLEY BOULEVARDS—Latest reports show that both the Foothill and the Valley boulevards are in good condition.

Latest Telegraphic Reports

A report just received advises travel to use the Ashfork - Grand Canyon road on account of the bad condition of the roads between Williams and Ashfork.

Word has been received that the ferry from Blythe to Ehrenburg is not operating due to high water in the Colorado river.

Sunday Auto Trip To San Gabriel Canyon

Beginning with today's automobile section the Glendale Daily Press will run, every Saturday, a one-day automobile trip—a jaunt that may easily be taken from Glendale in one day's time. This feature will be given for the enjoyment and benefit of the Press readers, and an effort will be made to so vary them that local and visiting motorists will follow these trips week by week.

While it is generally known that there are dozens of interesting one-day jaunts out of Glendale, the average motorist is acquainted with but a few. It is the desire of the Press to eliminate, on the part of the motorist, the work of planning these weekly tours. It is the idea either to take the jaunt on Sunday following the day of publication.

The initial trip of this series it to the mountains. This is the time of the year when the busy office man or merchant wants to get away from the city and as close to nature as possible. He wants to get to the mountains where the stream purrs over so softly, where the trees whisper gently and where the birds sing. There he finds rest, quiet and happiness.

San Gabriel Canyon

San Gabriel canyon will be the destination of those who take this trip. Everyone has heard of San Gabriel canyon, but not all of the motorists of Glendale have had the pleasure of beholding its beauties, and it really is a beautiful canyon. On the north fork of the San Gabriel river, which runs along this canyon, are located Camp Rincon and Cold Brook camp, while on the east fork are located Mountain View Resort, Scott's camp, Follow's camp and Williams' camp and farther up is Camp Bonita.

But the road is not finished to any of these camps, so that the motorist will probably not desire to go up that far. The roadways up this canyon have been built principally by convict labor. Each year it is being pushed back farther and farther into the hills, the intention being to continue this road—eventually to all of the camps above mentioned.

Starting on Trip

Starting at the corner of Brand boulevard and Broadway the motorist will go south on Brand to Colorado, turning east on Colorado and going straight through Eagle Rock, and over the wonderful $200,000 Colorado street bridge into Pasadena. Continuing east on Colorado street through Pasadena to Lamanda Park the motorist will there turn north and continue in that direction for two or three blocks, after which he will head east again, continuing over the foothill boulevard past the Sierra Madre road, and over a boulevard which, is as smooth as a table into and through Monrovia.

At Monrovia the Foothill boulevard branches south for several blocks, when it again turns to the eastward and continues on through Duarte to Azusa. At Azusa the motorist will turn north. For a distance of possibly a mile the course continues northward over a paved highway, but very abruptly it ends, circles a knob in the hill and continues through a stretch of cactus and Yucca covered deseft for a couple of miles.

Climb Up Canyon

Soon the motorist begins to climb up the canyon. Except for two or three inclines the grades are not very steep. At one or two points, in this canyon, however, the grade reaches 18 or 20 per cent, which is climbing "some." However, the average machine will make the grades without a great deal of trouble. These grades demand good brakes and an experienced driver, so that before starting the motorist must see to it that things are "right."

From the time the motorist begins to climb, the road is up and down for miles. At many points along the route, after the hills have been reached, are delightful picnic grounds and camping places. The road continues for 10 or 12 miles up the canyon and the motorist may continue as far up as he desires.

The trip going out is something like 30 or 35 miles in length and should take from one and a half to two hours to cover. Over the boulevard good time can be made, but the motorist will have to travel considerably slower after the hills have been reached.

Rest in Canyon

Several hours may be passed in the canyon in the enjoyment of the invigorating breezes of the mountains. There is nothing like the mountains with their quiet, peaceful restfulness to bring the tired business man back again. The troubles of the days that have passed and also of the week that is to come will disappear. To live among the trees for a short period, even though it is but a few hours, will very often do more good than the family physician.

The hours pass quickly in the mountains. They are too short and there are entirely too few of them. The time of starting home rests entirely to the motorist himself. It is well, however, to so arrange the trip that the cool of the evening may be enjoyed en route, and that home may be reached just as darkness is falling.

In planning these motor jaunts an endeavor will be made to overlap in the course as little as possible. That is, as far as possible the homeward journey will be made to differ as much as possible from the outgoing part of the trip. This will give the motorist continually new scenes, so that the trip will not become boresome.

Making Return Trip

From the camping place the motorist will return down the canyon to Azusa. Continuing south from Azusa to the El Monte-Covina road, he will turn to the right on this road and will continue along it until the Valley Boulevard, which is paralleled by the Southern Pacific railroad tracks, is reached. The motorist will turn to the right at this intersection and will continue west to and through El Monte, Savanah, and on to San Gabriel. Turuing to the right (north) at San Gabriel, the motorist will travel past the Masonic home, the San Gabriel Country Club and on past Huntington Drive into Pasadena.

Turning to the left at Pasadena the route will follow Colorado boulevard through Pasadena (take care not to exceed the speed law as motor cops are active) across the Colorado street bridge, through Eagle Rock and back to Glendale.

The distance covered by this trip is between 70 and 75 miles. With the exception of the mountains road every foot of the way is paved and the mountain road up San Gabriel canyon itself is in very good condition.

SENT TO ASYLUM BY AN ADMIRER

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Charles H. Coyle today was sued for $200,000 damages by Mrs. Alice M. Wigney, whose attorney says she was committed to the State Hospiatl for the Insane at Elgin without cause.

"Mrs. Wigney tells me that Coyle had her sent to the asylum because she repulsed his advances," said her attorney. "She would not be as good a friend and the sort of friend he wanted her to be. When she repulsed him he threatened he would 'get her.' She was committed to the asylum in September, 1920, but escaped the following month.

"Mrs. Wigney had been a close friend of Coyle's wife and their trouble grew out of this friendship. Mrs. Wigney had no idea where she was going when she was taken to the asylum, but believed she was being taken to a country sanatorium for her health, which had been poor. After her escape she brought suit against Coyle, but the action never came to trial."

FORCED TO WED IN LATEST FASHION

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Sylvia Bradas-Christ, 16 years of age, today asked the courts to annul her marriage and set her free. The girl-wife says that on July 14, Thomas B. Christ offered to take her riding through the parks in a taxicab he had hired, and she accepted.

But instead of showing her the beautiful parks, he had the chauffeur drive direct to Elmwood cemetery. He took the girl to an open grave, poked a revolver against her ribs, and without further preliminaries, said:

"I love you. Marry me at once or here is your grave."

Scared half to death, she consented and they drove back to the city, where he secured a marriage license, cautioning her to give her age as 19 years. A half an hour later Judge Pomeroy united them in marriage. Immediately following the ceremony Sylvia slipped away and returned to her parents.

SUPER GUNMAN DECLARED INSANE

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Gene Geary, known as Chicago's supergunman, and twice a slayer, today was found insane by a jury and will be committed to the state asylum instead of hanging for the murder of Harry Reckas, an innocent bystander, in a saloon which Geary "shot up" several months ago.

Charles Fitzmorris, recently sentenced to jail for contempt of court because he criticized delay in the execution of Carl Wanderer, wife murderer, said the Geary verdict was another "travesty of justice."

'Geary will be out on the streets before Christmas," the chief said.

MANY ACCIDENTS IN AUTOS AVOIDABLE

Thousands of automobile accidents happen yearly that could be avoided if proper care was taken by motorists. To those who are forgetful, the following list of suggestions along the "safety first" line may come in handy:

1. When you give an arm signal for a turn, look behind before turning.
2. Don't drive away from a curb without giving an arm signal and looking behind.
3. Do not park your car partly on the highway when stopping to change tires or make repairs.
4. Do not alight from a parked car on the left-hand side without looking to see if another machine is approaching.
5. Do not back out of any public or private garage onto a main thoroughfare.
6. Do not fail to look both right and left when approaching a street intersection, regardless of the fact that one has the technical right of way over all cars approaching from the left.
7. When driving in the country and approaching a railroad crossing, do not rely on the wigwag or bell, as they often fail to work. Use your eyes and ears.
8. Do not pass machines going in the same direction at a highway or street intersection, as it is dangerous as well as being against the law.
9. Remember not to drive too close to the car in front, as it may be necessary for the driver of that machine to stop his car suddenly without even giving a signal.
10. Do not race a street car to a stopping point in order to squeeze past it, as a large majority of accidents to pedestrians are caused in this way.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE AT GLENDALE HIGH

Candidates for the Glendale high school football team had their first practice yesterday. Pasadena Princess Athletic club was scheduled to send a team to Glendale for a practice with a tentative first team from the high school, but for some reason the Pasadena team failed to arrive and Coach Hayhurst organized two teams from among the candidates for the first team, and staged a practice game.

With the exception of the members of last year's team who played in their regular positions, the candidates were shifted from one position to another to enable Coach Hayhurst to get a line on their ability.

The candidates lined up well and Glendale will have a team this year that will be hard to beat. The team as a whole averages fairly heavy, but most of the men are fast on their feet.

A practice game with the first team from Burbank high school has been arranged for Tuesday, September 27. Coach Hayhurst will use players from both the first and second teams in this game and at some time during the week following the game, Glendale's second team will play a return match at Burbank.

SKYROCKET GIVES MAN BAD SCARE

CHICAGO, Sept. 24—They are still smiling over at Washington park about the "bomb scare."

John Halsey, a paper picker, poked his stick into a bush and what he found caused him to faint. Later he called the police and his find was carried down to detective headquarters. There it was dissected and found to be a skyrocket, with fuse attached, which had failed to explode. Halsey thought he had found a real bomb.

BLIND VETERAN IS DONOR OF EMBLEMS

Not as many comrades and corps members as usual attended the all-day meeting and dinner of N. P. Banks post and corps yesterday, covers being laid for 50 attendants.

At the conclusion of the dinner, Comrade Saliday, who was a guest from Stanton post, presented the N. P. Banks organization with a picture of emblems of war which he had designed, although he has been sightless ever since the great rebellion. He succeeded in interesting an artist in the subject, who visualized the design described to him by the veteran. It will be framed and hung in a place of honor in the G. A. R. hall.

The post held a business session in the forenoon and the corps held a meeting in the afternoon, at which two candidates were initiated.

Several members of the post and corps have gone east to attend the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic in Indiapapolis, the group including:

Mrs. George Sanford, Mrs. Mary Bright, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Elizabeth Kincaid of Los Angeles, Mrs. Julina Hayes, accredited delegate, who is now the guest of her daughter in Kansas City, Ed Phillips, George Whitaker, Mr. McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Porter and daughter.

MANY APPLICANTS FOR SCHOOL POSITIONS

Arthur C. Brown of this city, principal of McKinley junior high school of Los Angeles and member of the county board of education, says the schools in the "City of the Angels" are about as much congested as here.

McKinley high has an innovation this year in a printing plant employing a professional printer to supervise the printing of the school paper each week and to incidentally instruct students in the work.

Brown says that 700 new teachers have been certificated by the county board during the past month, a larger number than has ever before applied in the same length of time. About 50 per cent are from the state, while the balance is from the east.

HOSPITAL DIRECTORS ORDER IMPROVEMENTS

A meeting of the board of directors of the Glendale Research hospital was held in the office of Roy L. Kent on Brand boulevard, last night. The entire board was present.

Mrs. Griffin, superintendent, was authorized to purchase additional equipment for furnishing the hospital and for the remaining five rooms in the institution.

An attractive sign is to be placed at the entrance to Piedmont park, where the hospital is located, and was ordered made. An accountant was employed to prepare the first annual statement of the institution.

BUILDING ACTIVE IN ALL SECTIONS

If any one questions the growth of Glendale in the northwest section, he should go out in that direction. It will not make much difference which thoroughfare he chooses, as he will find new houses in all stages of construction.

Starting at Brand and Doran, he will find on the southwest corner a substantial brick block now up to the second story, which is being supervised by Mr. Rommel of the Rommel Construction Co. He is building it for a Mr. Gillespie of Los Angeles, who has not decided whether to furnish the second story for offices or for residence apartments. The first floor will be divided into five stores, two of which will face Doran.

On the same street in the neighborhood of Doran and Columbus, are four attractive bungalows, no two alike, which are obviously new and built for sale. All are occupied. Orin J. Thompson, who came to this city a few weeks ago from Hollywood, has taken one of them.

On the northwest corner of Doran and Pacific, Thomas E. and Eugene Morrison are building a five-room frame bungalow and double garage.

Messrs. Hall, Thompson & Hall are building a five-room house for sale at 515 West Doran which promises to be very attractive.

Lots in that neighborhood are said to be selling for $1,000.

A new frame colonial house is going up at 521 West Doran for C. W. Hanson.

On Patterson avenue there is just as great activity. A. G. Larson is completing at 5295 Patterson a five-room frame bungalow built for investment.

Just east of the Larson building are three houses in various stages of construction which are being built by Nathan Rigdon, all of which have been sold, he says. Mr. Hayward, of the Edwards & Wildey agency is the purchaser of one, a second having been bought by H. L. Miller, while the third, which is of hollow tile construction with plaster exterior, has been purchased by Mrs. Crandall, who recently came to Glendale from Panama.

On the southwest corner of Patterson and Pacific, Wallace Fryer is completing a five-room house which he will place on the market. Just across the street on Patterson a pile of lumber advertises the fact that a six-room bungalow is to be built there for the owner of the lot, Mr. Kimmer.

LAST APPEARANCE OF BETTY ROSS CLARK

A well-filled house greeted Betty Ross Clark as she appeared on the satge at the Palace Grand theater last night at the close of the picture "Mother O' Mine." In this great drama of the kind that made Thomas H. Ince a reputation as a director of super productions, Miss Clark plays the role of sweetheart opposite Lloyd Hughes, who takes the leading part all through the drama.

Tonight will be your last opportunity to see this masterpiece of cinema art, and a personal touch in the appearance of one who has been such a vital part in its success, adds greatly to its presentation. Miss Clark is just as charming as the screen portrays her and will be pleased to meet and get acquainted with the folks of Glendale, especially the "old folks."

As she makes but one appearance, and the capacity is limited to a certain extent, it is suggested that you refer to our time table elsewhere in this paper and make your arrangements accordingly.

NAN PATTERSON SOME WALLOPER

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—"Nan" Patterson, central figure in the notorious Young murder case some years ago, was in court in Yonkers today, charged with "striking, beating and wounding" her landlord, Francis S. Feigh, who lives in the same house on Central avenue, Yonkers.

The "attack" took place on July 29, and as Feigh was not in court to prosecute, Acting City Judge Charles W. Boote discharged Miss Patterson, who is known as Agnes A. Young.

In defense, Mrs. Young stated that the whole trouble started over the rent. She said her landlord had found her washing and had pitched her over the wash tub and had then choked her.

WILLIAM FARNUM IN LATEST SUCCESS

William Farnum is again back on the screen after a long illness which delayed "His Greatest Sacrifice." This picture portrays him at his best—a character role that compels your interest from start to finish.

"The Price of Possession" with Ethel Clayton is the second picture on the program and lessens the tense dramatic moments with a lighter vein and story.

The ever interesting Burton Holmes Travels and the melodies of Henri Monnet at the Wurlitzer complete the double bill for Sunday and Monday at the Palace Grand.

BREAKING AN EGG IS CAUSE FOR SPLIT

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Mrs. Minnie Johntry, wife of a Republican alderman, failed to complain when her husband beat her, neglected her and refused to work, she testified in court, but when he argued over the ethics of breaking the breakfast egg, the "camel's back" broke.

Appearing before Judge Foeh, Mrs. Johntry asked a divorce and $100 alimony, citing the egg incident, in which her husband had cursed her, as chief evidence. Judge Foeh indicated her cause was sufficient.

The average man will spend as much time telling stories about his dog as a woman will about her first baby.

VOICES OF THE GREAT; PLACE YOUR ORDER NOW

William C. Allen of San Jose is sending out leaflets as his bit toward bringing about disarmament and world peace. He quotes famous generals and places his major belief in faith and adherence to the teachings of Jesus Christ. Some editors and many people think because a man points to the teachings of Christ he is a long-haired reformer. That is not so. Men who have heard that they are descendants of apes and monkeys, and take it for granted, are not much interested in disarmament or the teachings of Jesus Christ, but there is a great host of people on earth who believe in God, the Father Almighty.

The man, Allen, who is circulating the leaflets quotes enough generals, well known in ancient and modern history, to deserve a hearing. What he says follows:

The Duke of Wellington declared: "If you had seen but one day of war you would pray God never to see another."

Marshal Foch is recently quoted as follows: "Napoleon fell because he forgot that a man cannot be God. that above the individual is the nation, above man is righteousness, and that war is not the supreme end—above it is peace."

General Sir Ivan Hamilton of the British army is quoted as saying: "If you wish for peace away with hate propaganda."

Field Marshals Haig, Plumer and Robertson and Generals Horne and Rawlinson, all of the British empire, recently subscribed to the following: "The passions from which war springs are not dead. There is only one hope of peace on earth and good will among men, and that lies in nations framing their ideals and their policy on the plain, old, simple rules of right and wrong and on the teachings of Jesus Christ, the world's only social hope and the sole promise of world peace."

General Pershing, in an address, speaking of a reduction of armaments, stated: "Unless some such move be made we may well ask ourselves whether civilization does not really reach a point where it begins to destroy itself and whether we are thus doomed to go headlong down through destructive war and darkness to barbarism."

General Bliss, late chief of staff, United States army, wrote to the Church Peace Union: "If the clergymen of the United States want to secure a limitation of armaments they can do it now without any further waste of time. If the churches cannot agree upon that it will not be done, nor will it be done until the good God puts into them the proper spirit of their religion."

Major-General Sir Frederick Maurice states: "I went into the British army believing that if you want peace you must prepare for war. I believe now that if you prepare thoroughly for war you will get war."

After all, the ultimate authority should not be generals but Jesus Christ. And if they urge the necessity of a policy leading to disarmament should we not support our President and representatives at Washington and let them know what we want? Write them.

LITTLE HOPE IS HELD FOR RECOVERY OF MILDRED HANAN

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Mrs. Grace Lawes, beautiful San Francisco divorcee, shot down her former chum, Miss Mildred Hanan, only after she had abandoned a plan to mar her victim's beauty.

As early as last spring Mrs. Lawes, while drinking, had expressed to a friend her resolve to disfigure the feautres of the heiress. She wanted to make sure, she said, that Miss Hanan would no longer "be attractive to men."

Miss Hanan's condition was reported today as critical. Physicians said it would be a miracle if she lived through the day.

Investigators learned that about ten days after Mrs. Lawes had been heard to threaten that she would disfigure Miss Hanan, she appeared suddenly at Shoreham, L. I., on her way to the country home of the Hanans. At the station she saw the Hanan automobile drive away with only the chauffeur in it. She learned from the station agent that Miss Hanan had taken a train for Seagate, her brother's home. Mrs. Lawes then went to Seagate, where she learned that Miss Hanan was at the Atlantic Yacht club. She went there and tried to gain admission.

Soon after that she trailed Miss Hanan on several occasions. She was never able to meet her.

Investigators believe she finally decided to abandon the plan to disfigure Miss Hanan's features and decided to kill her and end her own life.

Miss Hanan and Mrs. Lawes had their first open break on last Decoration Day. It was so pronounced that the heiress asked the divorcee to leave her home.

PICTURE LONDON AS HEALTH RESORT

LONDON, Sept. 24.—The cartoonists are beginning to picture London as the nation's health resort. Already doctors are cartooned holding the pulse of a provincial patient, advising him to run up to London for a rest and cure.

The latest health figures are the basis of Londons claims as a spa.

The death rate for the last quarter recorded was 12.6, the lowest in history.

The infant mortality was 76, which, the statisticians hasten to point out, compares with 85 for New York City.

The birth rate rose from 18.2 to 26.4 per 1,000 of population.

JUDGE LANDIS WILL HAVE POWER GIVE WORLD PENNANT

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—World's series of the future will have to suit Judge K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, or he can stop the series and award the championship to whichever club he desires. Copies of the new book of rules defining the authority of the commissioner have been distributed and their contents became known today.

Under a specific rule the commissioner has the right, whenever he deems it the interest of baseball, to terminate the world's series and to declare one of the contesting clubs the winner, regardless of previous performances.

CARUSO'S THROAT WAS MOST UNUSUAL

LONDON, Sept. 24.—Dr. William Lloyd, throat specialist, who for many years treated Caruso, writes that, comparing him with other great singers, he found the following characteristics of the perfect singing machine:

"The most striking feature was the great length of the vocal tube; the distance from the teeth to the vocal cords, in Caruso was atleast half an inch more than in any other great tenor I have examined.

"A second point was the length of the vocal cords, on whose length breadth and thickness the pitch of the voice largely depends. The average length of the relaxed vocal cords in a man is 18 millimeters (about 3-4 in.). Caruso's vocal cords were 1-6 in. longer than those of any other tenor I have seen.

"The capacity for vibration of the vocal cords is another most important factor, for the higher the note the more rapid must be the vibration. Caruso when singing his wonderful voice was the formation of the epiglottis, which was thick at the base, as in bassos, but exquisitely fine and delicate at the free end. The power of his voice was so great that he often fractured glasses in my consulting room by singing their fundamental notes at the orifice."

WITHDRAW TROOPS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. — Withdrawal of American troops from the Rhine will begin to take place immediately after ratification of the German-American treaty, Senator Lodge announced in the senate today after debate on the German, Austrian and Hungarian treaties started.

AT THE LISTENING POST

In the old days we had the circus "press representative."

He passed out complimentary tickets and elaborate fiction at the same time.

It was his business to whet the public appetite.

By arousing its curiosity.

* * *

The circus was one of the first institutions in this country to recognize the value of publicity.

The circus press agent was among the nation's first propagandists.

And it was an American circus man who is alleged to have said that "the public likes to be humbugged."

* * *

So it is said he made a white elephant.

With whitewash.

And the publicity did the rest.

The curiosity of the public was aroused.

* * *

Then there were other concerns that grew to know the value of publicity.

Patent medicine fakirs.

Who put out poisonous and mind and soul destroying concoctions with glib press agentry.

More propagandists.

* * *

Immense fortunes were built up out of indiffere merchandise, or some even worse than indifferent, by catching the popular fancy.

Appealing to the eye and ear.

What finer propagandist ever lived than the old style street corner fakir?

* * *

The one with the platform and the flaring gas lights and the corn salve or the hair tonic or the magic oil.

His field was limited to the number of those with whom he spoke.

But his virtue as a salesman was undeniable.

* * *

Gradually the matter of advertising engaged the attention of the real man of business.

Who had something good to sell.

And who needed a market.

* * *

He created a market by telling people continually and systematically and earnestly what he had for sale.

And instead of a limited local market he built up a national and international market.

* * *

He knew the value of the association of ideas.

And made his name stand for a certain thing for sale.

As did "Jones of Binghampton."

A great many years ago.

It stood for scales.

* * *

Today the association of ideas is interesting!

Heinz suggests pickles.

Wrigley suggests gum.

Snider means catsup.

Fairbanks means scales.

Ford means motor cars.

* * *

Gillette is a kind of safety razor.

Force is not violence.

It is breakfast food.

The successful advertiser focussed on something.

A flour concern adopted a slogan:

"Ultimately—why not now?"

* * *

One of the greatest selling foods on the market today was built up with an engaging name.

The name appealed to the buyer.

It was only necessary for the makers of the name to make the product and keep the name constantly before the public.

* * *

And today is the age of publicity.

Advertising.

Sales propaganda.

Banks are among the Consistent advertisers.

In the old days the bank may have used an advertising card.

Today it uses advertising that has interest, story, human appeal.

* * *

Churches are to be found advertising their wares in the advertising columns.

Why not?

Why should not a church let the public know what it is today?

As well as a theater or a lecture bureau or a chamber of commerce?

* * *

Some of the publicity of today is perhaps a bit nauseating:

There are too many "movie stars."

Too many "captains of industry."

Too many "multi-millionaires."

Too many "oil-kings."

Too many "unrivalled geniuses."

Too many "wizards of finance."

Too many "merchant princes."

* * *

The presses are sometimes clogged with the ebullitions of the press agent.

There is a lot of clap-trap and buncombe and fakery being printed.

But in the matter of legitimate advertising the men who write advertisements and the men who make use of them are both interested in raising the standards.

* * *

And it is an advertising era.

If you have something good to sell, it is necessary to let people know about it.

But two things are vital:

To tell the story honestly.

And to have the goods or wares to back the story up.

BRAINS WANTED NOT MERE SEX

[Detroit Free Press]

If the women recommended to President Harding for place as delegates to the disarmament conference are recommended merely because they are women and not bcause they have superior equipment as human beings, there is no excuse for expecting the President to consider their names. The coming conference is too serious a matter to have its success endangered by mixing the sex issue up with selection of those who are to represent the United States. The best and most experienced statesmen and diplomats will be none too good.

WHY BUSINESS LAGS

[Indianapolis News]

Conditions are as uncertain and unsettled as they were when the present administration assumed office. We have two tariffs in force at the present time, with another one looming on the horizon—we hope the distant horizon. Business knows no more than it did a year ago what taxes it will have to pay. When one house passes bills dealing with these extremely important matters, the other house finds, and finds truly, that they will not do at all. Meanwhile industry lags and unemployment increases.

SEEKING TROUBLE WITH HIS OWN HIDE

[Philadelphia Public Ledger]

Fancy a western farmer clamoring for a duty on hides! He might thereby, if the packers did not control and fix and dominate the prices anyway, make forty-five cents on his three hides a year, and at the same time pay $14.50 per year more for his shoes and harness and saddles and other leather accessories. Funny thing about the western farmer. He always seems to have a stigmatism that causeth a myopia of vision.

SCHOOL CENSUS WILL BE MADE THE FIRST WEEK IN OCTOBER

A school census or registration of all minors between the ages of three and eighteen years of age must be made in each elementary school district during the first week in October. The people must go to the school house to be registered, and the teachers must register them. The necessary forms and directions will be sent by the county superintendent of schools to all districts except the seven that are governed by the board of education. Those must provide their own forms.

This work must be done at the school houses during working hours and without extra compensation, as far as possible.

MARINE CAPTAIN IS FLIGHT VICTIM IN LIGHT TEST

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Captain John A. Minnis was killed last night when the VE-7 airplane fell into the Potomac river near the Marine flying field at Quantico, Va. Captain Minnis was flying in searchlight tests, attempting to evade detection from the ground by searchlights operated from the flying field. Because of the maneuvers it was not known for some time that an accident had occurred.

The airplane Captain Minnis was flying was so badly damaged that it has been impossible to determine the cause of the accident. Captain Minnis' home was in Montgomery, Ala.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By Henry James.

An important announcement is that pictures may cease to be the "silent drama." For a long time there has been an effort to syncronize the action of the picture with the spoken word. It never has been done unless it has now been accomplished at experimental trials not open to the public. Some attempts have been grotesque, because after the action had been portrayed, the words befitting the act have floated after tardily, and marred a succeeding scene. If perfection should be attained in this respect, pictures would reach a new and better status. The necessity for inscriptions thrown on the screen, for certain patrons to read aloud, would be at an end. The picture would be given fresh life and a far greater effectiveness.

* * *

In all probability the strike in the oil fields will be settled quickly and peaceably. The strikers themselves were opposed to violence from the beginning, and while their method of excluding it was considered drastic by some observers, there is no denying that it was much better than a system of riots.

* * *

Truth has the reputation of being mighty, and owing to this quality, to be able to prevail. There are indications that in the Arbuckle trial, truth is going to have a hard time to come through unscathed. Of course the truth is the truth, and nothing can change it, but it may be disguised, hidden, twisted, and generally prevented from being of effect.

* * *

One of the females supposed to have knowledge touching the Arbuckle case has been mentioned in connection with the recent murder of Father Heslin. The man held for this crime has talked of a certain "Dolly Mason" believed to be fictitious, and the present effort is to make the Arbuckle witness appear to be the girl in question. It has the appearance of being a very silly piece of business, for purpose far from laudable.

* * *

It is an ordinary event now for a posse to be chasing a murderer. Each time there are sawed-off shotguns, highpowered machines and heavily armed sleuths. It is far from an ordinary event for any of these posses to achieve anything more than perspiration from the weight of their weapons.

A woman in New Jersey had for years paid for the keep of her insane husband at the state asylum, ever with the hope that he would recover. Recently she went to see him, and found that he had died in 1918, without causing any hiatus in her procession of financial contributions for his care. Justice is said to be the pride of New Jersey, and to mark its official conduct. If this is the case, the commonwealth will make haste to return the widow's money, with interest, and accompanied by an apology.

* * *

In Akron, Ohio, a woman confesses that she killed her husband by throwing acid in his face as he slept. Her reason was that the home was not happy, and now she weeps as though her act had failed utterly to restore the once accustomed joy. Killing a recreant husband generally is a mistake, and applying the acid test to his vitality, is a poor way for the prospective widow to create sympathy for herself.

* * *

It is little short of comical to observe Trotzky lamenting the good faith of Poland, which country he says has broken a treaty with the soviet government. One of the primary teachings of bolshevism as first expounded by Lenine, was that the only purpose in signing a treaty was to lure the other signatories into a disadvantageous position, and then break the treaty. If Lenine chickens have shown this tendency to roost on the home perch, nobody cares much.

It seems that the resolution introduced in the house concerning members who belong to the army reserve, applied to Representative Lineberger no more than to more than a score of others. Therefore the indignation raised on his account may as well be permitted to subside.

SLEEPING OUTDOORS

By Dr. Frank Crane.

Sleep is good, but no one knows how utterly good it can be who has not slept outdoors.

There is something about a room, any room, even in a palace, and there is something about a house, that spoils and smothers sleep, and it is only when you can set your face against the sky, and your lungs against the exhaustless air, that your soul really dips into the infinite and comes back to life in the morning with its last corner fresh and garnished.

Leonard Fleming, a South Afican farmer, tells of his Best Bedroom at home, and why he prefers it to all the luxurious couchings of civilization.

"My Best Bedroom," he says, "is up on my highest hill. I can climb to the top—carrying a blanket, a pillow, and a great coat—in fifteen minutes.

"On grass and little bushes, which I pull and spread out, I put my coat, my pillow against a rough boulder, and I lie down with the warm scent of earth and veld grass about me. And over me and on every side, hanging like rich curtains far away, the blue-black sky, splashed with gorgeous stars.

"The silence is wonderful—complete, absolute stillness—save for the regular beating of my heart and the intake and release of my breath.

"I am on the top of all the world, lying on my back, with only stars and sky pouring through my eyes deep into my body and soul. And I go to sleep very, very happy, feeling that all the exquisite beauty of the cooling night around me has made me just a little part of it all—a little human atom for a while in complete harmony with the infinite Scheme of Things.

"And then comes the most wonderful moment of all.

"It is the moment of the dawn wind which passes across the earth as regularly as clockwork every day half an hour before dawn.

"It is a soft, faint little wind that rustles the leaves and grasses and ripples still water—the first sound in all those silent hours—a fresh, cool, very gentle wind that lasts but a few seconds.

"It is the wind that wakes the world—the wind that whispers of the coming day—and it passes beyond as swiftly and as suddenly as it came.

"Out of the silence a distant sheep bleats, a bird sings, then two birds, then hundreds. The east is bright gold, the western hills are flushed, and then the day and the day's work."

Of all the strange and curious superstitions that have attacked men's minds perhaps the most remarkable is the notion that night air is injurious.

All over Europe people shut themselves up in tight rooms to sleep. In America this custom is not so general, but we are not wholly guiltless.

It is a matter of habit. One used to sleeping in a close room catches cold if he sleeps out in the woods, and a trapper accustomed to sleeping in the open catches cold if he has to lie all night (he could not sleep) on a soft bed in a room with only one window open only two inches.

Try it outdoors and stick to it long enough to get the habit, and you will discover many of Nature's delightful secrets, as Leonard Fleming found about the mothering, adoptive silence of the infinite, and about that shy and delicate dawn wind that wakes the world.

TRAMP PARTY IS RIOT OF LAUGHTER

The Intermediate Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church gave a very unique party last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Eilers, in the form of a "tramp" party. The invitations had all been sent out on scratch paper and the guests were all dressed as tramps. Some were in overalls, old suits and ragged dresses, while other wore tiny hats and long beards and vari-colored hose and shoes.

Prizes for the best costume of both a boy and a girl were won by Miss Margaret Majors, who wore an old skirt with about 12 different colored stripes running up and down. Her waist was all torn and she had on shoes and stockings that were not mates and a tiny straw hat with a big plume upon it. Graham Tinning won the boys' prize. He wore an old suit made of patches of various colors. He had a long beard of orange yarn and a tiny black mustache.

The yard was lighted by Japanese lanterns and games were played outdoors. During the evening refreshments of baked beans, brown bread, chocolate pudding, cakes and jelly beans were served. Mrs. J. A. Engle and Mrs. F. H. Eilers were in charge of the refreshments, which were served on wooden tables covered with newspapers.

"SAILING PARTY" AT WALKER RESIDENCE

The social committee of the Baptist Young People's Union staged a navel entertainment last night at the home of Stanley Walker. It was called a "sailing party" and the Walker home was decorated to represent an ocean steamer, which the guests entered over a gang plank with life preservers handy and a ship's doctor in evidence to give first aid for seasickness.

The ship was loaded to capacity and ship's bells announced the hours. The voyage proved a pleasant one and before it ended guests turned in their tickets for the dining room and were served with delicious refreshments. Diversions of the evening were games played on the quarter-deck.

ANNIVERSARY WAS CELEBRATED AT DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Rowe and daughter, Nellie, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Weien and son, Vaughn of Eagle Rock, were guests.

Mrs. Mottern has received letters from her daughter, Elizabeth, declaring she has been having the time of her life sight-seeing in Philadelphia and visiting relatives in various parts of Pennsylvana. She expected to reach New York this week.

EASTERN STAR HAS ENJOYABLE SESSION

A real treat was given members of Glen Eyrie chapter, Eastern Star, last night, when 17 officers of the White Shrine composing the Mystic Circle, visited the chapter and put on the degree of the Mystic Tie, in which the whole chapter participated.

Mrs. E. R. Naudain, as worthy matron of the hostess chapter, was the "guest of honor" in the Mystic Tie ceremonial and was presented by the White Shrine team with a beautiful bouquet of flowers, which she gracefully acknowledged in a little speech. W. W. Worley, worthy patron, also greeted the visitors and thanked them for putting on the work.

The officers of the Mystic Circle were attended by quite a delegation of White Shriners, and these, with the full membership of the local chapter, and invited guests, made a company of about 200.

At the close of the ceremonial a social hour was enjoyed in the banquet room, where refreshments were served at tables attractively decorated with asters.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but becomes weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

TWO SPEAKERS IN GLENDALE SUNDAY AFTERNOON

"Millions now living will never die; will be the subject to be delivered by W. R. Mitchell in I. O. O. F. hall in Glendale Sunday evening, September 25th, and by C. R. Kneweyer, in Knights of Pythias hall sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

If persistent proclamation of a message is an evidence of a sincere belief in its being true, the International Bible Students have been demonstrating their belief that "Millions now living will never die."

During the last three years, Judge Rutherford, President of the International Bible Students Association has been proclaiming this message teaching every city and village not only in the United States and Canada, but throughout the world. Judge Rutherford has delivered two lectures in Los Angeles on this subject, each time speaking to an audience of 3000 with an equal number turned away.

Recently Judge Rutherford made a lecture tour of Great Britain and Europe, including Palestine, declaring that "Million Now Living Will Never Die," to large audiences. Royal Albert Hall, London, with a capacity of 13000, was filled and 15000 were unable to gain admittance. A similar occurrence was witnessed at the New York Hippodrome. Everywhere the story is the same—the largest auditoriums unable to accommodate the crowds that are attracted by this message.

Now the Bible Students throughout the world are in a concerted movement Sunday, September 25th. On this date every available speaker will go forth to speak on the theme "Millions Now Living Will Never Die."

The speakers present a very ably arranged line of Scriptural argument in support of the topic. The lecture is free and no collection is to be taken.

They have quite a lot of work they will start just as soon as plans for the different structures can be drawn and arrangements completed.

SNEAK THIEF GETS $75 FROM GARAGE

Entering the garage of H. F. and J. M. Hall while the proprietors were working in the rear, someone stole $75 from a tin money box left on a desk in the office late yesterday.

The Hall brothers operate a small garage near Tropico and are in the habit of leaving money in a cash box in the office. The thief apparently knew of this habit. A quantity of silver was left by the thief or thieves. It is believed that the thieves feared discovery or overlooked the silver in their haste.

TWO "MACS" HOLD BIGGEST WINNINGS

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Connie Mack and John McGraw, with six pennants apiece, are the leading pennant-winning managers in the history of big league baseball. The "bellcows" in the flag-winning department follow:

Connie Mack—1902, 1905, 1910, 1911, 1913, 1914.

Johne McGraw—1904, 1905, 1911, 1912, 1913, 1917.

Ned Hanlon—1894, 1895, 1896, 1899, 1900.

Frank Selee—1891, 1892, 1893, 1897, 1898.

C. A. Comiskey—1885, 1886, 1887.

A. C. Anson—1880, 1881, 1882, 1885, 1886.

Comiskey also holds the record for consecutive championship won by the St. Louis Browns from 1885 to 1888 1888, 1901.

Every singer in a quartet can point out three good reasons why the organization isn't perfect.

GLENDALE MEN ARE HELD FOR ALLEGED CONSPIRACY

Guy Wells, former Glendale police officer, William Kincy, formerly a restaurant proprietor of this city, Ernest Thede and Charles Wilson, were arraigned yesterday before U. S. Commissioner Long and held under $2000 bonds to answer to the charges of conspiracy to violate the Volstead act.

These men were taken in a raid conducted between Glendale and Burbank Wednesday night by James L. Brown of the Glendale merchants' patrol, his assistant, Walker, Prohibition Enforcement Agents Daniel O'Leary and Wheeler, assisted by three Burbank officers.

Thede and another man, not yet arrested, are also charged with transporting 55 gallons of brandy. The hearings are set for October 1.

In addition to the charge of conspiracy to violate the Volstead act, the men are charged with impersonating government and Glendale officers. It is alleged that the defendants impersonated officers and secured several hundred dollars as "hush" money from several alleged bootleggers in the vicinity of Glendale and Burbank. The men are also suspected of being implicated in several robberies and holdups.

In connection with the charge of conspiracy to violate the Volstead act a winery near Glendale is in trouble for selling the moonshine brandy to the men. The operator has made an offer to compromise with the government, it is said, by paying $1500. Another winery is said to have sold the prisoners 25 gallons of brandy and a Japanese near Burbank is alleged to have purchased $50 worth of liquor from the prisoners.

DEMAND DOUBLED BRIGHT PARASOLS

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Bright hued umbrellas are twice as much in demand as a year ago, manufacturers declare. They look expectantly for the day when street crowds in rainy weather will be just as vivid as those who sally forth with cheerful garb on fair days.

Rainy days in New York have not resented such a dull picture on the streets as in the past, when the black umbrella was the only kind to be seen. The working girls, who must go into the business thoroughfares in any weather, have developed a penchant for umbrellas of purple, brown, orange and particularly blue and others have taken up this cheerful challenge to the darker side of nature.

HEN REQUIRES A LITTLE FUN, TOO

DURHAM, N. H., Sept. 24.—The hen is a tempermental bird and must be kept entertained. The secret of success with a laying stock is never to let the hens become bored. When the hens lose interest in life the poultryman must vary the routine.

These are some of the rules laid down by the Rev. Marshall Dawson of Storrs, Conn., who besides being a popular Congregational clergyman is a successful poultryman. He spoke at a recent conference of Rural Pastors and Religious Workers at New Hampshire college here taking for his subject, "Profitable Sidelines for Ministers." Mr. Dawson took up poultry raising to supplement his income from preaching and has made a study of "hen psychology."

FRUIT RAIDS GET BOYS INTO TROUBLE

Ernest Marckello, 4434 West Cypress street, and Joseph Eyraud, 433 West Garfield street, were cited to appear at police headquarters today for the alleged theft of melons from trucks as they passed through Tropico along the San Fernando road.

They appeared this morning before Desk Officer Mann and after receiving a lecture promised that they would hereafter respect the property of others. Officer Mann told the boys that the next boy who appeared at the police station for the theft of fruit from trucks would be sent to Juvenile Hall for several months.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You Can Bring Back Color and Luster With Sage Tea and Sulphur

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is mussy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.

Among the ancients the sapphire was worn as a precentative against bites of benomous animals and to keep away apparitions.
